

I believe that permanent restriction of airspace is a wise course of action. It is better to maintain current levels of security to deter terrorists.